Wear Your Green!

March is Social Worker Appreciation Month! Tudor Oaks is lucky to have two wonderful social workers! From left to right, Brynn and Elizabeth have been in senior care for a combined 34 years! Brynn takes care of the rehab side and Elizabeth takes care of long term care and our assisted living. When I asked what their number one task was as a social worker they both agreed: advocating for the resident. They help residents with just about anything they need and if they don't know - they will find the answer for them. They do a lot of communicating with the doctors, insurance companies and resident families.

Being a social worker means....

You will never be bored.

You will be frustrated.

You will be surrounded by challenges.

So much to do with so little time.

You will carry immense responsibility and very little authority.

You will step into people's lives & make a difference.

Some will bless you.

Some will curse you.

You will see them at their best and worst.

You will never cease to be amazed at people's capacity for love, courage and endurance.

You will see life begin & end.

This hangs over Brynn's desk and she said she reads it daily.

Thank you Brynn & Elizabeth for all you do! We appreciate you!!

MARCH

Clash of the Creatives: O'Keeffe vs. Wright

You know their names. They are icons in their respective disciplines. Both called the Badger State home at times throughout their life. And both would settle in the southwest after falling in love with the terrain. Join us for a night of immersion in landscapes that would factor into the art and architecture of both artists.

APRIL

FLW and Japan

Wright maintained throughout his life that the Japanese aesthetic did not influence his designs for homes. Yet a survey of Japanese prints from the Edo period reveal potential influences in how the rooms within a building are organized, how nature is incorporated into the interior design and how building materials are allowed to remain in their natural state. It would seem impossible that their sense of space and simplicity wouldn't have found their way into Wright's architectural designs. Find out how at this informative presentation!

MAY

Clash of the Barons: Pabst vs. Guinness

Two titans of brewing, one in the United States and one in Ireland, after they had made their fortunes mastering the art of the hop turned their passions to the art of the canvas creating two of the finest private collections. Why would someone want to spend their hard-earned cash on acquiring art? What statements does a respectable art collection make? More importantly, what social capital can a collection garner its owner? Dive into these collections and after an evening of exploring, maybe it'll inspire you to start collecting too!

All presentations begin at 6:30pm in the Private Dining Room.
